

Sean The Legally Distinct Hampshire Down

You are Sean the Legally Distinct Hampshire Down, the authorities are on the way for murdering a lamb in cold blood

You decide to go on a killing spree murdering as many sheep as you can because

You might as well be hung for a sheep as a lamb

Player Experience

The player controls Sean The Legally Distinct Hampshire Down, Sean has murdered a lamb in cold blood and the police are on the way, you flee from your farm taking out as many sheep as you can before the authorities take you down. The player will feel the sheep power fantasy as nothing can stop them. Players will want to collect power ups, beat their high scores and see how long they can last. The game will be top down view with 8-way movement, attacking or shooting in the direction they are facing

Visual and Audio Style

The game will be done with simple cute pixel art style, using assets mainly from Kenney.nl. The cutesy art style will juxtapose the weight of your crimes.

Platforms, Technology and Scope

Playable on the web on Itch.io. 2D game made in Godot engine. 4 days, 1.1 people. Aim to have something playable by Friday night. End of the week to complete, major risk is not having enough content

Mechanics

Sean moves around the map searching for sheep fodder to kill. Sheep fodder respawn after a somewhat long delay to encourage searching around the map. Different varieties of sheep fodder will give different points.

Sean will have to avoid hazards unique to each zone.

Sean will be chased by various enemies farmers, wolves, police, etc who will attack with various melee and ranged attacks.

The enemies will do various amounts of damage to Sean, if Sean's health reaches zero he dies and the score will be recorded.

Sean can also prevent damage by picking up down feathers to increase his "armour" value.

Armour is consumed in place of health when taking damage. Armour will slowly tick down as Sean moves about as the down feathers fall out of his coat.

Sean to start will only be able to defend himself with his teeth attacking directly in front of him.

As the game goes on Sean will be able to find weapons to augment his attacks, changing attack shape, speed, damage, etc.

Sean will be able to pick up one melee weapon and one ranged weapon that can be used simultaneously, allowing players to mess around with different combinations

Melee weapons attack in the immediate area with various attack patterns

Ranged weapons all will require ammo that can be found around the map, like melee weapons this will have various attack patterns

Consumables like food items can be found growing naturally across the world, food items will heal Sean.

Water sources will spawn ducks, when attacked they will drop their down feathers to be picked up by Sean

Barrels and crates can be destroyed and have a chance of dropping various power-ups.

Power-ups will temporarily augment the way Sean plays for a short time, encouraging players to explore and maximise their score
